The Family Maltreatment component of the Family Advocacy Program provides identification, evaluation, and treatment services for active duty members and their families referred due to maltreatment (child and/or spouse abuse) through the Case Review Board (CRB). The CRB is a multidisciplinary team that establishes and monitors family maltreatment programs and services. Air Force policy directs that all active duty members and civilian employees of the Air Force will report all incidents of suspected family maltreatment (AFI 40-301). Services include, but are not limited to: Assessment of all reported cases of family maltreatment; individual, marital, family and group therapy; on-going risk and safety assessment; liaison with their base and/or community agencies; monitors cases through the Family Maltreatment Case Management Team, and referral to appropriate community resources.

COMMUNITY OUTREACH PROGRAM
The Family Advocacy Outreach Manager implements primary and secondary prevention services. Primary prevention promotes wellness and improves functioning in military families. Examples of services include: Parenting Skills classes, Taking Control (Stress/Anger) classes, special theme/community family events, family maltreatment, and Active Communications classes

NEW PARENT SUPPORT PROGRAM
The New Parent Support Program is a program designed to provide information and education to parents with a new addition to their home. This program is managed by a registered nurse and supports the family during the prenatal phase of family development which begins with pregnancy and extends through the age of three.

HEALTH PROMOTIONS

Mission
To ensure a fit force, prepared to perform all mission related duties 24/7 by fostering a health conscious community support environment inclusive of family members as key components of the whole person concept.

Vision
To promote healthy, positive lifestyles of the community focused on long term health, quality of life, and long term cost savings.

Information
We help the active duty, title 10 reservist/IMA and retiree war fighter along with their dependents improve lifestyles by either recovering from chronic diseases and injuries or preventing them altogether through education, direction and empowerment. The HAWC offers many diverse wellness programs, such as Gait Analysis, Stress Management, Diabetes Management/Survival, Healthy Living Programs, Healthy Heart Program, Tobacco Cessation, etc.

Diet and nutrition play an important role improving the wellness of individuals and their families. HAWC offers meal planning and provides education to clients needing guidance in the prevention and/or treatment of chronic diseases by promoting healthy eating habits. We can counsel individuals and groups on diet-related concerns such as weight loss, cholesterol/hypertension reduction, blood sugar control, sports nutrition, pregnancy, and childhood nutrition.

Welcome to the AFMC Civilian Wellness Program

The Civilian Health Promotion Services (CHPS) program is provided through a partnership between Air Force Materiel Command (AFMC) and Federal Occupational Health. The CHPS program is open to all DoD AFMC Civilian employees. We offer a wide range of health promotion services and educational material to help you on your journey to better health. Our commitment is to improve your physical well-being, quality of life, reduce your risk of preventable conditions, increase your awareness of nutrition and health, and provide you opportunities for lifestyle change through screenings and education.

Programs and Services

CHPS offers a wide variety of health education classes which can be provided at the location of choice, such as a briefing, a lunch-and-learn, a Commander’s, or Director’s Call, a unit off-site, or almost any other setting that you, your staff, and/or your coworkers prefer. Classes we offer include: Stress Management, Men’s Health, Women’s Health, Cholesterol Education, Understanding Hypertension, Diabetes Awareness, Back Care, Lighten Up! – an eight week weight management class, and much more. Make your health a priority and visit www.AFMCWellness.com often.

All of our classes are free of charge and open to all (Active Duty, civilians, contractors, dependents, and retirees) with base access. See CHPS events and other information on www.Facebook.com/EdwardsCHPS and LIKE our page!
